RICHART'S

SHOE HOUSE.

NO. 13 EAST SECOND STREET.

SIR HENRY MORGAN, BUCCANEER

By CYRUS TOWNSEND BRADY,
Author of "The Southerners," "For Love of Country," "The Grip of Honor," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY G. W. DILLINGHAM COMPANY

"And you were so cold," she whispered. "I looked at you. I begged you with all my soul before I signed. You did nothing, nothing! Is there no help?"

"Dost love me?"

"With all my soul," she answered.

"Poor!"

"Nay!"

"Obscure!"

"Nay!"

"Lowly—perhaps ignobly born!"

"Nay, love, these are mere words to me. Rich or poor, high or low, noble or ignoble, thou only hast my heart. I have thought upon thee, dreamed upon thee, loved thee. I cannot marry Don Felipe. I, too, have the pride of the De Laras. My father shall find it. I signed that contract under duress. You would do nothing. Oh, Alvarado, Alvarado, wilt thou stand by and let me be taken into the arms of another? But no; I shall die before that happens."

"Donna Mercedes," cried the unhappy young man, "I love thee, I adore thee, I worship thee with all my heart and soul! Were it not a coward's act I would have plunged my dagger into my breast ere I witnessed that betrothal tonight!"

"Thou shouldst first have sheathed it in mine," she whispered. "But couldst find no better use for thy weapon than that?"

"Would you have me kill Don Felipe?"

"No, no, but defend me with it. There are hidden recesses in the mountains. Your soldiers worship you. Take me away, away into the undiscovered countries to the southward. A continent is before you. We will find a new Mexico, carve out a new Peru with your sword, though I want nothing but to be with you, alone with you, my soldier, my lover, my king!"

"But your plighted word?"

"Tis nothing. My heart was plighted to you. That is enough. Let us go. We may never have the chance again," she urged, clinging to him.

A fearful struggle was going on in Alvarado's breast. What she proposed was the very thing he would have attempted were the circumstances other than they were. But his patron, his friend, his military duty, his honor as a soldier—the sweat beaded his forehead again. He had made up his mind at the betrothal to give her up. He had abandoned hope; he had put aside possibilities, for he could see none. But here she was in his arms, a living, breathing, vital, passionate figure, her heart beating against his own, pleading with him to take her away. Here was love with all its witchery, with all its magic, with all its power, attacking the defenses of his heart, and the woman whom he adored as his very life, with all the passion in his being, was urging, imploring, begging him to take her away. He was weakening, wavering, and the woman who watched him realized it and added fuel to the flame.

"The love I bear your father!" he gasped.

"Should it bind where mine breaks? I am his daughter."

"And Don Felipe is my personal friend."

"And my betrothed, but I hesitate not."

"My oath as a soldier!"

"And mine as a woman."

"Gratitude—duty!"

"Oh, Alvarado, you love me not!" she cried. "These are the strongest. I have dreamed a dream. Lend me your dagger. There shall be no awakening. Without you I cannot bear!"

As she spoke she plucked the dagger from the belt of the young soldier, lifted the point gleaming in the moonlight and raised it to her heart. He caught it instantly.

"No, no!" he cried. "Give back the weapon."

The poniard fell from her hand.

"Thou hast taken me! I thank thee," she murmured, thinking the battle won as he swept her into his arms. This time he bent his head to her upturned face and pressed kiss after kiss upon the trembling lips. It was the first time, and they abandoned themselves to their transports with all the fire of their long restrained passion.

"And is this the honor of Captain Alvarado," cried a stern voice as the viceroys entered the room—"my officer in whom I trust? Death and fury! Donna Mercedes, what do you here?"

"The fault is mine," said Alvarado, stepping between the woman he loved and her infuriated father. "I found Donna Mercedes in the cabinet when I came in. She strove to fly. I detained her—by force. I poured into her ear a tale of my guilty passion. Mine is the fault. She repulsed me. She drove me off."

"The dagger at your feet?"

"She snatched it from me and swore to bury it in her heart unless I left her. I alone am guilty."

"Thou villain! Thou false friend!" shouted the viceroy, whipping out his sword. He was beside himself with fury, but there was a characteristic touch of magnanimity about his next action. So handsome, so splendid, so noble, in spite of his degrading confession, did the young man look that he gave him a chance.

"Draw your sword, Captain Alvarado, for as I live I shall run you through!"

Alvarado's hand went to his belt; he unclasped it and threw it aside.

"There lies my sword. I am dishonored," he cried. "Strike and end it all!"

"Not so!" screamed Mercedes, who had heard as if in a daze. "He hath not told the truth. He hath lied for me. I alone am guilty. I heard him praying here in the still night, and I came in, not he. I threw myself into his arms. I begged him to take me away. He spoke of his love and friendship for you, for Don Felipe, his honor, his duty. I did indeed seize the dagger, but because though he loved me he would still be true. On my head be the shame. Honor this gentleman, my father, as I—love him."

She flung herself at her father's feet and caught his hand.

"I love him!" she sobbed. "I love him!"

"Is this true, Captain Alvarado?"

"Would she had not said so," answered the young man gloomily.

"Is it true?"

"I cannot deny it, my lord, and yet I am the guilty one. I was on the point of yielding. Had you not come in we should have gone away."

"Yet you had refused?"

"I—I—hesitated."

"Refused my daughter! And you, shameless girl, you forced yourself upon him—threw yourself into his arms?"

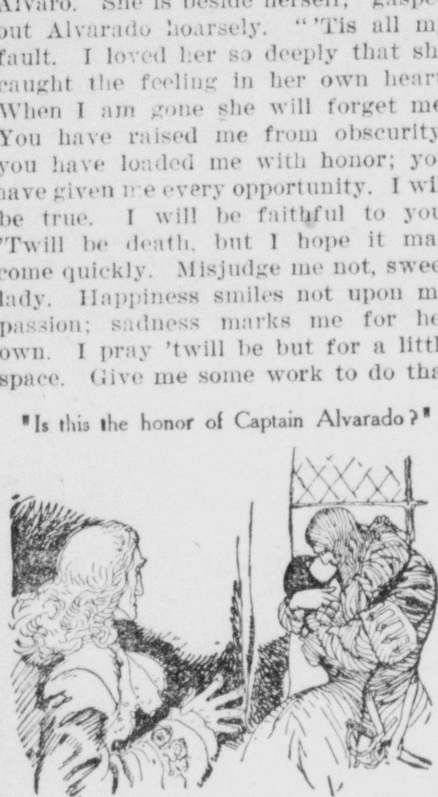

"Yes, I loved him. Didst never love in thine own day, my father? Didst never feel that life itself were as nothing compared to what beats and throbs here?"

"But Don Felipe?"

"He is a gallant gentleman. I love him not. Oh, sir!"

"Press your daughter no further, Don Alvaro. She is beside herself," gasped out Alvarado hoarsely. "Tis all my fault. I loved her so deeply that she caught the feeling in her own heart. When I am gone she will forget me. You have loaded me with honor; you have given me every opportunity. I will be true. I will be faithful to you. 'Twill be death, but I hope it may come quickly. Misjudge me not, sweet lady. Happiness smiles not upon my passion; sadness marks me for her own. I pray 'twill be but for a little space. Give me some work to do that

"Is this the honor of Captain Alvarado?"

I may kill sorrow by losing my life, my lord. And thou, Donna Mercedes, forget me and be happy with Don Felipe."

"Never, never!" cried the girl. She rose to her feet and came nearer to him. Her father stood by as if stunned. She laid her arms around Alvarado's neck. She looked into her lover's eyes.

"You love me and I love you. What matters anything else?"

"Oh, my lord, my lord," cried Alvarado, staring at the viceroy, "kill me, I pray, and end it all!"

"Thou must first kill me!" cried Mercedes, extending her arms across her lover's breast.

"Donna Mercedes," said her father, "thou hast put such shame upon the name and fame of De Lara as it hath never borne in 500 years. Thou hast been betrothed to an honorable gentleman. It is my will that the compact be carried out."

"Oh, my God, my God," cried the unhappy girl, sinking into a chair, "wilt thou permit such things to be?"

"And, Alvarado," went on the old man, not heeding his daughter's piteous prayer, "I know not thy parentage nor to what station thou wert born, but I have marked you from that day when, after Panama, they brought you with pride and joy. Whatever responsibility I have placed before you, you have met it. Whatever demand that hard circumstances have made upon you, you have overcome it. For every test there counts a victory. You have done the state and me great service, none greater than tonight. With such a temptation before thee, that few men that I have come in contact with in my long life could have resisted, you have thrown it aside. You and your honor have been tried and not found wanting. Whatever you may have been, I know you now to be the finest thing on earth, a Spanish gentleman! Nay, with such evidence of his character I could, were it possible, have set aside the claims of birth and station."

"Oh, my father, my father!" interrupted the girl joyously.

"And have given you Donna Mercedes to wife."

"Your excellency!"

"But 'tis too late. The betrothal has been made, the contract signed. My word is passed. In solemn attestation before our holy church I have promised to give my daughter to Don Felipe de Tobar. Nothing can be urged against the match!"

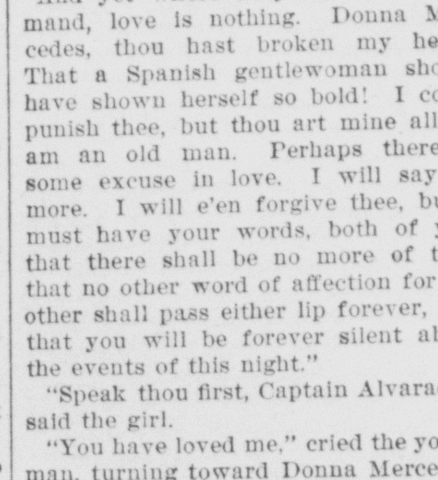

"But love," interjected Mercedes. "That is wanting."

"It seems so," returned the viceroy. "And yet where duty and honor demand, love is nothing. Donna Mercedes, thou hast broken my heart. That a Spanish gentleman should have shown himself so bold! I could punish thee, but thou art mine all. I am an old man. Perhaps there is some excuse in love. I will say no more. I will even forgive thee, but I must have your words, both of you, that there shall be no more of this; that no other word of affection for the other shall pass either lip forever, and that you will be forever silent about the events of this night."

"Speak thou first, Captain Alvarado," said the girl.

"You have loved me," cried the young man, turning toward Donna Mercedes.

"First kill me!"

"and you have trusted me," bowing to the old man. "Here are two appeals. God help me, I cannot hesitate. Thou shalt have my word. Would this were the last from my lips."

"And he could promise; he could say it!" wailed the broken-hearted woman. "Oh, my father, he loves me not! I have been blind! I promise thee on the honor of a De Lara! I have leaned upon a broken reed."

"Never," cried the old man, "hath he loved thee so truly and so grandly as at this moment."

"It may be, it may be," sobbed the girl, reeling as she spoke. "Take me away. 'Tis more than I can bear."

Then she sank prostrate, senseless, between the two men who loved her.

PEOPLE TO DECIDE

Czar Will Shirk the Responsibility of Vital Decision.

IS IT PEACE OR WAR?

This Question, It Is Now Credibly Reported, Will Be Submitted to a National Assembly.

Czar's Manifesto Convoking the Assembly Is Expected Most Any Hour.

St. Petersburg, June 2.—There are various rumors afloat in the city that the emperor is dead, having either committed suicide or been assassinated. The rumors are untrue.

St. Petersburg, June 2.—St. Petersburg is full of rumors of the most contradictory character regarding the prospects of peace, but in the best informed quarters it is declared that no definite decision has been reached. Nevertheless it is persistently reported that an imperial manifesto may be expected within a brief time.

The ministers who went to the council at Tsarskoe Selo Thursday were so expectant of immediate action that the editor of the Official Messenger was instructed to hold his forms open for an important announcement, but at the last moment the editor was informed that this announcement was not yet ready.

This manifesto it is credibly reported will proclaim the immediate convocation of a national assembly to which the question of peace or war will be submitted, thereby shifting the burden of a decision from the shoulders of the emperor to the whole nation, robbing agitators of opportunity to make revolutionary capital of the decision, whichever way it may be taken.

The emperor's advisers realize that whatever haste may be made in calling together the representatives of the people, it will be impossible for them to meet in time to forestall another battle in Manchuria, but though a request for an armistice is a possibility, the present disposition is to leave the matter entirely in the hands of the assembly, as another defeat on land unless decisive could not change the situation or make it much worse, while a victory for General Linvitch would alter the complexion of affairs entirely.

The admiralty has not yet recovered from the stupefaction caused by the naval disaster, but from reports received from the commanders of the Almaz, Izumrud and the torpedo boat destroyers, the naval authorities are gradually piecing out a connected story of the battle up to the last stage before the surrender of the fleet under Nebogotoff. There is little comfort for the Russians in their own reports. According to the dispatch from Baron Ferzen, the commander of the cruiser Izumrud, the battleships remaining in the fight were still in squadron formation when he was cut off, and this, necessarily the deep resentment felt here at the surrender of the ships, the Novos Vremya even declaring that the officers ought to be court-martialed and sent for hauling down their flags and turning their ships over to the Japanese. The paper cites articles of the naval regulations forbidding a commander to surrender except as a last emergency after taking measures to destroy his ship. It points out that it required only the opening of the sea-cocks to send the ships to the bottom. The crews would be given a good chance of life, the paper says, and cites the example of the cruiser Rurik of the Vladivostok squadron, which after the fight with Admiral Kamimura in August last, went down heroically with colors flying. The saddest note for St. Petersburg was struck by the destruction of the battleship Alexander III., which was manned by sailors of the guard and officered exclusively by men prominent in society and at court. Her crew served during the winter time as a regiment of the guard, of which the dowager empress was honorary commander.

Brutal Robber's Crime.

Newark, O., June 2.—Mrs. Frances Wertz was brutally murdered at her home seven miles south of this city by an unknown burglar, who escaped. Mrs. Wertz heard a noise on a lower floor. Picking up a pitchfork, she went downstairs, accompanied by her grandchild. As she opened the stair door leading into the sitting room, a tall man struck her with a heavy club, and then hit her repeatedly after she had fallen. The grandchild rushed screaming from the house to a neighbor's, and when help reached the house the woman was dead and the murderer had fled.

Charge of Criminal Libel.

Denver, Col., June 2.—George J. Kindel, a well-known manufacturer, was arrested on the charge of having criminally libeled the late Henry B. Hyde, founder of the Equitable Life Assurance society, by printing his picture in a circular between those of two outlaws, over the inscription, "Kindel's Gallery of Dead Cheaters." Refusing to sign a personal recognition bond, Mr. Kindel was lodged in jail, but later released without bond.

AT THE FRONT

News From the Headquarters of the Russian Army.

Headquarters of the Russian Army, Godzyadani, Manchuria, June 2.—The main body of prisoners taken by Lieutenant General Mischchenko during his detour along the Mongolian border and in his attack on General Nogi's Fakoman-Shimintin communications, has arrived. The Russians with the prisoners brought the first details of Mischchenko's expedition, which occupied from May 13 to May 24. They say that General Nogi was shown to have no reserve and no defenses to his lines of communication in accordance with the Japanese custom, but that his strength was all at the front, which appears to show the general's indifference to the Russian cavalry. Nogi's semi-circular position north of Fakoman is believed to be very formidable.

Mischchenko's Cossacks appear to have distinguished themselves by the manner in which they captured their prisoners. The railroad between the lines has now been entirely removed and there has been the most complete destruction of the bridges. The first news of the long expected battle between Rojstevsky and Togo has arrived and details are awaited with great anxiety.

THE PEOPLE WIN

Gang Surrendered in Face of Public Opinion in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, June 2.—Without a dissenting vote both branches of city councils withdrew the ordinance authorizing the lease of the city gas works to the United Gas Improvement company for a period of seventy-five years, for which privilege the company was to pay the city $25,000,000. Select council also unanimously confirmed the appointment of Colonel Sheldon Potter as director of public safety and A. Lincoln Acker as director of public works. The galleries of the council chambers were packed to suffocation with spectators, but there was no disturbance and the action of the municipal legislators was received in silence. Another important move was made in common council when Alexander Delaven, chairman of the finance committee, introduced a resolution fixing the tax rate for next year at $1.50 on $100, the present rate. The Republican organization leader who advocated the gas lease extension claimed that money was needed immediately to meet expenses, and asserted that if the ordinance was defeated it would be necessary to increase the tax rate. Mayor Weaver, on the other hand, contended that the existing rate was sufficient.

ANARCHISTS CONFESS

Plot Against Alfonso's Life Revealed in Paris.

Paris, June 2.—Magistrates have searched for incriminating documents at the residence of the Spanish anarchist Malato, who was arrested following the attempt to assassinate King Alfonso, but refused to reply to questions without legal advice. Another Spaniard, named Volina, when questioned, declared he had been in Paris for a month with several companions preparing for an attempt on King Alfonso's life. They had received five uncharged bombs from Barcelona, he said, which were hidden in the Bois Virofay in order to escape police investigation. The prisoner promised to show where they were hidden. His three companions have been arrested.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

The Lewis and Clark centennial exposition at Portland, Ore., is now formally open and in good running order.

Strong influences are being exerted between Paris and St. Petersburg toward securing the realization of peace.

The Canadian sealer Agnes Donohu was seized by the Uruguayan government for alleged poaching within the three-mile limit.

An interurban car was held up at the outskirts of Beloit, Wis., by four men, who robbed the passengers at the point of revolvers.

Rear Admiral Voelkersham, who was in command of the battleship division of the Russian fleet, was killed in the conning tower of the Oslabya.

Two miners were killed at the Walpole mine at Iron Mountain, Mich., by the fall of overhanging ore. Both are buried 600 feet below the surface.

The original commission of John Paul Jones as a captain in the navy has been located in Philadelphia, and an effort will be made to obtain it for the navy department.

Because he threatened the lives of his fellow townsmen with a gun, Geo. Workman, the town sergeant, shot and instantly killed John Jones, a miner, at Charleston, W. Va.

A naval board has been appointed to designate those officers of the navy who are to be retired under the personnel act. About twenty have voluntarily applied for retirement.

THE JAP RELIGION

An Enlightening Ray Let In By Admiral Togo's Report.

GIVES SPIRITS CREDIT

Success Was Due Not to Any Human Agency, But to Protection of Spirits of Emperor's Ancestors.

The Brilliant Virtue of His Majesty Likewise More Effective Than Guns or Gunners.

Tokio, June 2.—Admiral Togo, responding to the imperial rescript commending the admiral and his sailors, expresses his appreciation and further says: "That we gained a success beyond our expectation is due to the brilliant virtue of your majesty and to the protection of the spirits of your imperial ancestors, and not to the action of any human being. We shall be faithful and answer to the imperial will."

COST OF BATTLE

Seven Thousand of Rojstevsky's Men Unaccounted For.

Tokio, June 2.—The Japanese losses in the battle of the sea of Japan were 113 officers and men killed and 424 officers and men wounded.

Tokio, June 2.—Estimates made of the Russian losses in the battle fought in the sea of Japan last Saturday and Sunday, exclusive of nearly 4,000 prisoners, vary from 7,000 to 9,000. It is feared that the majority perished. Calculating the complements of the sunken and captured ships at upward of 10,000, 7,000 men remain unaccounted for. It is possible that the ships which escaped rescued some of the members of the crews of less fortunate ships. Many bodies have been washed ashore on the islands and on the shores of the neighboring coasts near the scene of the battle.

Saved Vessel From Enemy.

St. Petersburg, June 2.—Official reports bearing on the naval battle are beginning to be received by the emperor and Grand Duke Alexis, the high admiral, the most important of these reports revealing the fate of the cruiser Izumrud, being a telegram from her commander, Baron Ferzen, dated June 1, saying that he had blown up the cruiser at the entrance of Vladimirov bay. His report says: "I was cut off from the squadron and, finding it impossible to rejoin it, resolved to make for Vladivostok. I put on full speed and the enemy's cruisers came on in pursuit. Owing to the insufficiency of my coal supply and the certainty of meeting the enemy's cruisers, I subsequently altered my course for Vladimirov bay, where I arrived on the night of May 29. At 1:30 o'clock next morning in pitch darkness the Izumrud ran aground on a reef at the entrance to the bay. Having only ten tons of coal left, seeing it would be impossible to refloat my vessel, I ordered the crew ashore and blew up the Izumrud to prevent her falling into the hands of the enemy."

The Wind Betrayed Him.

Tokio, June 2.—A telegram from Sasebo says that Admiral Rojstevsky stated in an interview that he hoped to clear Tosa island in a fog, but a sudden southeast gale cleared the fog and revealed the presence of his fleet.

Admiral Voelkersham Killed.

Tokio, June 2.—Rear Admiral Voelkersham, who was commander of the battleship squadron of the Russian fleet, was killed the first day of the battle, May 27, in the conning tower of his flagship, the battleship Oslabya.

Wabash Claims Another.

Terre Haute, Ind., June 2.—Cecil Raymond, aged seventeen, was drowned in the Wabash river, making the second death from swimming in cold water here in two days.

OPERATION AVOIDED

EXPERIENCE OF MISS MERKLEY

She Was Told That an Operation Was Inevitable. How She Escaped It

When a physician tells a woman suffering with ovarian or womb trouble that an operation is necessary, the very thought of the knife and the operating table strikes terror to her heart, and our hospitals are full of women coming for ovarian or womb operations.

There are cases where an operation is the only resource, but when one considers the great number of cases of ovarian and womb trouble cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after physicians have advised operations, no woman should submit to one without first trying the Vegetable Compound and writing Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice, which is free.

Miss Margaret Merkley of 275 Third Street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "Loss of strength, extreme nervousness, shooting pains through the pelvic organs, bearing down pains and cramps compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor, after making an examination, said I had ovarian trouble and ulceration and advised an operation. To this I strongly objected and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The ulceration quickly healed, all the bad symptoms disappeared and I am once more strong, vigorous and well."

Ovarian and womb troubles are steadily on the increase among women. If the monthly periods are very painful, or too frequent and excessive—if you have pain or swelling low down in the left side, bearing down pains, leucorrhoea, don't neglect yourself; try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Threats to Spread Strike.

Chicago, June 2.—Alleging that there is conspiracy among employers to drive the union button off the city's streets, strike leaders have renewed their threats to spread the strike. A large milling company has refused to deliver flour to a union driver wearing his button.

Confessed His Guilt.

Noblesville, Ind., June 2.—William Rhinebolt, aged twenty-three, and a resident of Sharpshooter, was arrested on the charge of forging O. P. Nash's name to a note for $25. After being placed in jail he confessed his guilt and will throw himself upon the mercy of the court.

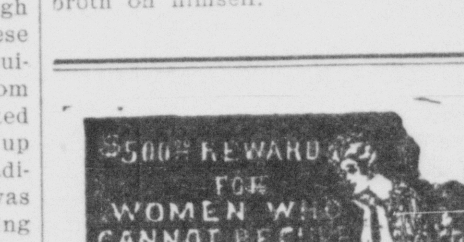

Will Meet at Rochester.

Rochester, Ind., June 2.—The mid-summer meeting of the Northern Indiana Editorial association will be held in this city June 29-30. A fine program has been arranged for the occasion, and the visitors will be entertained in Rochester's very best style.

The Guest of Honor.

Louisville, Ky., June 2.—Justice Harlan of the United States supreme court was the guest last night at a banquet given in honor of his 72nd birthday by the Louisville Bar association.

Decatur, Ind., June 2.—Two-year-old Harry Daugherty was fatally scalded here by overturning a kettle of hot broth on himself.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure. No other medicine than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription could possibly "win out," as the saying goes, on such a proposition; but they know whereof they speak. They have the most remarkable record of cures made by this world-famed remedy ever placed to the credit of any preparation especially designed for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments. The wonder of it is, therefore, stands absolutely alone as the only one possessed of such unrivaled properties as to fully warrant its makers in publishing the remarkable offer above made in the utmost good faith.

"A short time ago I was almost dead with nervous prostration, general debility and female weakness," writes Mrs. Loretto Webster, of 317 Virginia Ave., Lexington, Ky., worthy Treasurer, Independent Order of Good Templars. "Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was recommended to me as a sure cure, and I found this to be true. I obtained splendid results, securing fine health. Women ought to be grateful to think there is one safe and sure cure offered to them for their troubles. I advise every sick and suffering woman to stop spending money and wasting time with doctors' prescriptions, when a few bottles of your remedy is sure to cure. I am the happy mother of two children, boy aged sixteen, and girl, eight years."

Do not permit the dealer to insult your intelligence by suggesting some other compound which he recommends as "just as good," because he makes a fortune. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has stood the test of time and experience. Thousands speak well of it—because thousands have been cured by it.

FRIDAY JUNE 2, 1905.

The Orleans Herald has suspended publication after several years of struggling existence. The field was already covered and the publisher of the Herald found that out. As a result of a few years labor he has had some valuable but costly experience.

W. J. BRYAN is soon to start on a tour of the world to study the problems of municipal ownership and government ownership—both the same thing in principle. This is characteristic of Mr. Bryan. Already he has declared himself on this subject, and for some time he has been advocating it. Already he has taken his position. Now he sets out to study the subject.

In 1870 railroad rates were much higher than they are now, said Mr. Parry at the meeting of the Manufacturers' association. Many things have contributed since then to the reduction of railroad and other charges. But the demand for rate legislation now is not based chiefly upon the rates themselves, but against unfair discrimination which drives many of the smaller shippers out of business and gives a combination of big shippers either a monopoly or an approach to a monopoly, and this combination fixes its own prices on its products, having practically no competition. This is the basis of the demand for legislation on the subject.

Epworth League Entertained.

The Epworth League of the German Methodist church was pleasantly entertained Thursday evening at the home of Miss Nan Dahlenburg on South Poplar street. A large crowd was present and the program was excellent. One of the interesting features was the debate on the subject, "Resolved that the Congregational church was right in expelling the $100,000 gift from Rockefeller." The affirmative side of the question was taken by Rev. Harley Jackson and Edmund Huber and the negative side was discussed in an animated manner by Rev. C. E. Severinghaus and Rev. Austin B. Conrad. The affirmative side won. Refreshments were served and the enjoyment continued until a late hour.

Columbus Budget.

The city council of Columbus last night appropriated $43,000 to cover the estimated expenses of running the affairs of that city for the coming year. That is about two and a half times greater than what the cost of administering the affairs of Seymour will be for the same period. Seymour is more economically governed than any city of the same class in Southern Indiana and the salaries provided for the municipal officers here are lower than any other city of the same size and importance in the state.

DIED.

WHITE.—Lawson White died at his home near White's Chapel north of Surprise Thursday evening June 1, age 74 years, 9 months and 20 days. He was a prominent and well known farmer. He was born in North Carolina. Burial Saturday at 10 a. m. at White's Chapel.

W. O. O. Club.

Miss Laura Massman entertained her young lady friends of the W. O. O. Club last evening at her home on South Chestnut street. Euchre was the feature of some very interesting games. Miss Myrtle Baker was first prize winner. Refreshments were served.

Street Social.

The B. Y. P. U. of the Baptist church will give an ice cream and strawberry social on Chestnut street between St. Louis avenue and Second street on Tuesday evening, June 6th. The public is cordially invited.

Money saved is good as money earned. See Platter & Co., for photographs.

Rheumatism, gout, backache, acid poison, are results of kidney trouble. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea goes directly to the seat of the disease and cures when all else fails. 35 cents. W. F. Peter Drug Co.

TRACTION TALK.

One of the Big Companies May Build Line Through Here.

The Jeffersonville News says that steps are being taken by one of the big Indiana traction companies to build a line south through Seymour and on to West Baden and French Lick. That this electric railway company has become interested in the plans submitted by men who have been working on this proposed line for a year or two and is about ready to take it up.

There is some probability, we understand, if they do take hold of it that a line will be run south from here to Louisville. The line to French Lick would leave the main line at this place and run through Brownstown, Valonia, Campbellsburg and on to Paoli, West Baden and French Lick.

We believe this is a good proposition and that the money invested would bring good returns.

MARRIED.

LONG-MILLER.

Fred Long and Miss Tillie Miller both residing near Fleming in Redding township were married Thursday evening at 5 o'clock by Rev. Geo. Sweeney at Reddingtown. They will reside on Mr. Long's farm.

BRUNOW-DROEGE.

On Thursday evening June 1st, Adolph F. Brunow and Miss Martha E. Droegge were married at the home of the bride's mother. In response to invitations twenty-five friends besides numerous relatives, were present to witness the wedding ceremony by Rev. Phillip Schmidt, pastor of the German Lutheran Church, at 8 o'clock. Mr. Albert Wilde played the wedding march. The bride was beautifully dressed in white silk muslin and bridal veil. The ceremony was singularly impressive and pleasing.

The house was lovely with its ornate decorations of carnations, roses and smilax. After the ceremony an elaborate supper was served by Mrs. Droegge. The evening was made very pleasant by the orchestra and several vocal solos by Edward Schmidt.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. J. H. Droegge and is loved by a large circle of friends. Of recent years she has helped in the grocery store on South Walnut. Mr. Brunow is one of the leading dentists of Seymour and a model young man of excellent traits of character. The newly married couple will be at the home of the bride for several days after which they will take up their residence in their newly furnished home at the corner of Brown and Vine streets. Their many friends are one in congratulatory expressions to them and are their hearty well wishers.

Two Squirrels Cost $86.

John Kliene, who lives near Cumberland, in Marion county, spent a short time Sunday in the woods and shot two squirrels. This is not the hunting season. Game Deputies Van Meter and Stonehouse heard of the matter, and went after him at once. It is said they found the squirrels also. Kliene appeared in Justice Smock's court Monday, and he was fined $10 and costs on each squirrel after he had pleaded guilty, making the total fine and costs $86.

This is not the time to hunt squirrels and the fellow who violates the law ought to be fined.

Torture of a Prescher.

The story of the torture of Rev. O. D. Moore, pastor of the Baptist church, of Harpersville, N. Y., will interest you. He says: "I suffered agonies, because of a persistent cough, resulting from the grip. I had to sleep sitting up in bed. I tried many remedies, without relief, until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, cough and colds, which entirely cured my cough, and saved me from consumption." A grand cure for diseased conditions of throat and lungs. At W. F. Peter Drug Co., price 50c and $1.00, guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

Soldiers' Reunion.

The old soldiers of the Southern Indiana counties have arranged to hold their annual reunion at English, Crawford county, August 16-19. There will be assembled in addition to the veterans of the Civil War the young soldiers who served in Cuba and the Philippines, together with the small remnant of Mexican war veterans still living within easy traveling distance of English. The people of that community will provide free quarters and rations for the visitors and the meeting will close with a great sham battle on the hillside near the camp.

A Fearful Fight.

It is a fearful tale to have to endure the terrible torture of piles. "I can truthfully say," writes Harry Colson, of Masonville, Ia., "that for blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles, Bucklen's Arnica Salve, is the best cure made." Also best for cuts, burns and injuries. 25c at W. F. Peter Drug Co.

Missionary Meeting.

The Presbyterian Home Missionary Society met Thursday afternoon from 2:30 to 5 o'clock at the home of Mrs. B. P. Price on north Chestnut street. The ladies of the missionary societies of all demonstrations of the city were present and the fifty guests were delighted with the excellent program and pleasant social hour which ensued. The meeting was one of the most enjoyable and profitable of the kind in the history of the society, which is just closing a most successful year, educating a young girl in Kentucky.

The subject of the program for the afternoon was, "Missionaries and Mission Teachers in Puerto Rico." After the usual devotional exercises in charge of the president, Mrs. Price read an excellent paper on the work in Puerto Rico. Mrs. W. F. Peter and Mrs. W. P. Masters rendered a beautiful instrumental duet, which was followed by the reading of an excellent paper by Miss Nina Ewing on her travels in the Holy Land, through Joppa, Jerusalem, Jericho, Bethany and other places of like interest and import to a missionary assemblage. The paper was thoroughly appreciated and truly enjoyed. Miss Ewing has unusual capacities both as the composer of a paper and as a speaker.

From this time till the close of the afternoon, the ladies gave themselves to the enjoyment of the company of each other and spent a most entertaining hour. The house with its beautiful flower decorations was a bower of beauty and the ladies so nicely gown were in keeping with the loveliness which surrounded them.

Mrs. Lida Price, of Columbus, was the out of town guest.

New Albany Salaries.

The salaries for the officers of New Albany were fixed for the coming nine months by the council of that city this week. His salary after that will be $2000 and may be increased to $2500. Other salaries for the nine months are city judge $1000, city clerk $1100, city attorney $1087.50, city controller $1000, city treasurer, $1050, secretary board of health $375, physician for contagious diseases $300, street commissioner $675, police department salaries $9000, board of public works, three members, $2,400. EDITORS WANTED

Effort Will Be Made to Bring National Meeting to Indiana Next Year.

GOOD TIME IS PROMISED

Delegation From Indianapolis Will Extend Invitation At The Guthrie Meeting Next Week.

They Will Go Prepared to Offer the Editors the Earth and the Fullness Thereof.

Indianapolis, June 2.—A delegation from the Indianapolis Commercial club and representatives of the several editorial associations of the state will depart on Monday for Guthrie, Okla., to attend the annual meeting of the National Editorial association. The Indianapolis Commercial club has formally prepared an invitation asking the National Editorial association to hold its 1906 meeting in Indianapolis, and with its long list of attractions and promises of a good time which accompany the invitation, it is the hopeful expectation of the committee to capture the plum. Other portions of the state are equally interested, several cities having added to the invitation a bid for the presence of the delegates of the national association on side trips which will be arranged in connection with the big meeting. In addition to a comprehensive tour of Indiana thus offered, a trip to Detroit, thence by water to Quebec, with stops at all interesting intermediate points is promised. Taking all into consideration, the Indiana delegation to Guthrie believes it will hold the winning hand when next year's convention city is selected, and is going prepared to bring back an acceptance of its most cordial invitation.

FAITH IN ATTORNEYS

Edward Donahue Believes He Will Escape the Gallows.

Michigan City, Ind., June 2.—With the day of his execution but little more than a week off, Edward Donahue, convicted of the brutal murder of Armin Northrup of Benton Harbor, appears to be the least disturbed of anyone about the prison over his impending doom. Warden Reid reports that Donahue eats and sleeps as if he had a long lease on life. The condemned man has implicit confidence in his attorneys and feels confident that he will be granted a stay of execution, if not a new trial, by the supreme court. Donahue's execution has been set for Friday, June 9, and will take place as soon after 12 o'clock Thursday night as possible.

Liability of Automobiles.

Indianapolis, June 2.—The supreme court has passed on the question of the liability of automobiles for frightening horses in affirming a judgment for $925 recovered by Thomas Brown against the Indian Springs company. Brown was driving into Attica across the Wabash river bridge, and at a narrow place on top of an embankment he met an automobile running twenty miles an hour. The horse ran away and threw Brown out. The court holds that while autoists have a right to use the public roads they must act with due regard for the rights of others.

Petro's Shortage.

Richmond, Ind., June 2.—According to the final report by the expert who has been investigating the finances of Cambridge City, the apparent shortage of Daniel Petro, the missing clerk-treasurer, is $2,765. No step looking to prosecution has been taken by the town board, nor have any charges been filed by the prosecutor. The whereabouts of Petro continues unknown.

Sunday School Convention.

Bloomington, Ind., June 2.—The 41st annual convention of the State Sunday School Association of Indiana is in session here with an attendance of about 500 delegates and visitors from out of the city. Nearly every county in the state is represented and delegates are from Sunday schools of all denominations.

Found After Many Years.

New Albany, Ind., June 2.—Mrs. Miller, wife of Josiah Miller, deputy county recorder, lost her engagement ring nineteen years ago on the highway near Scottsville, fifteen miles north of this city. Yesterday it was found by the Rev. Andrew P. Smith, who was repairing the highway, and he returned it to the original owner.

Incendiaries Suspected.

Evansville, Ind., June 2.—The substitution of the Evansville & Princeton traction line, near this city, was destroyed by fire, entailing a loss of about $15,000. The police believe the fire was of an incendiary origin.

Baby Ate Strychnine Pills.

Hammond, Ind., June 2.—Frank Kramer, aged three years, got strychnine pills from his father's desk, ate them for candy and died.

Brooded Over Trouble.

Hammond, Ind., June 2.—John W. Whiting hanged himself after brooding over troubles.

DOWN TO BUSINESS

Indiana Railway Commission Securing Reduction of Rates.

Indianapolis, June 2.—The Indiana railway commission is getting down to business. As a starter it has induced the Pennsylvania to reduce the freight rate on coal between Jeffersonville and New Albany from 25 to 15 cents a ton. Complaint was made by operators at Booneville that 25 cents for the five-mile haul between Jeffersonville and New Albany was prohibitive so far as they are concerned. The Southern hauls coal from Booneville to New Albany, a distance of 99 miles, for 40 cents a ton. The total rate of 65 cents a ton from Booneville to Jeffersonville prevented the Booneville operators from bidding for the valuable contracts at the Indiana reformatory, which has been using Eastern coal brought down the Ohio river. Local representatives of the Pennsylvania were asked by the commission to intercede with their company. Information has been received from the latter that a cut will be made. The railway commissioners are gratified over the result and hope to settle most matters out of court in the same manner.

Private bankers throughout the state who tried to prevent the enactment at the recent session of the legislature of any law compelling them to submit to state supervision, are preparing to bring suit to test the constitutionality of the new law. John R. Wilson of this city has been retained to push the case. Wilson said today that the law is class legislation in that it discriminates against the private banker imposing conditions on him that are not imposed on state bankers. The law requires the private bankers to make a statement to the auditor of state showing their private resources are double the amount of the capital paid into them. Wilson says this requirement is unfair, as the constitution guarantees equal laws for those situated in like conditions. Some private bankers have incorporated as state banks rather than submit the statement required. The law says that the statements must be made by July 1. Wilson attempted to arrange with Attorney General Miller for a test case, but Miller refused to have anything to do with the matter until it reaches the supreme court. The private bankers who refuse to comply with the law by July 1 will be subject to criminal prosecution.

The state board of health's crusade against impure and adulterated foods will begin within a very short time. Dr. T. Victor Keene of this city, city sanitarian, has been appointed superintendent and pathologist for the new state laboratory of hygiene which is now being established in the state-house. H. R. Barnard, a New Hampshire man, will be state chemist and H. R. Bishop of this city, his assistant. Dr. Hurty and other health officers have been insisting for several years that the state establish a laboratory of hygiene, but Governor Durbin was against them and vetoed their bill after it passed the legislature. Governor Hanly, however, was friendly to the proposition, and the legislature last winter made an appropriation of several thousand dollars to carry it out. Dr. Hurty has shown from time to time samples of analyses he has made of foods sold in the state without restraint containing such impurities that no one would eat them if they knew what they were eating. During the recent session of the legislature the doctor had a large exhibit of impurities some of the prepared foods contained, and it was a potent argument in favor of the laboratory bill.

The annual school for Indiana health officers is being held at the Claypool hotel. There is a large attendance of medical men from throughout the state. A number of noted instructors and specialists are present.

MALARIA A Poison Breathed into the System

The air arising from low, marshy places, damp cellars, stagnant ponds and pools and from decaying vegetable matter, as well as the gases from sewers, is loaded with germs of malarial poison. The water we drink, that has not been properly filtered and purified, is also full of these germs and microbes, and as we daily breathe and drink millions of these into the system, to be absorbed by the blood, the entire body begins to feel the effects of the poison. The most common form of Malaria is "chills and fever," but when the blood is thoroughly saturated with the poison it becomes so weak and polluted that abscesses, carbuncles, boils, sores, ulcers and other skin diseases result. Malaria also affects the liver, kidneys, bowels and stomach, producing a chronic state of biliousness that often results in jaundice or some malignant fever. In cases of Malaria the blood must be purified before the body can regain its natural health. S. S. S. contains purifying and tonic properties possessed by no other blood medicine, and is the ideal remedy for the treatment of Malaria. It destroys the germs of the disease and builds up the weakened, polluted circulation. It enters into the blood and forces out every particle of poison and waste matter and adds strength and activity to it. S. S. S. improves the appetite and digestion, tones up the entire system by its alterative and purifying action, and Malaria, with all its bad effects, is permanently driven from the system. Book on the blood and any medical advice, without charge. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

NO FEE TO FISH

In Michigan, the Mecca This Year of Indiana Tourists as in Years Past.

SPRING STOCK.

Positive information received from Michigan authorities states there is no truth whatever in a report that an annual fee of $25 or any other fee is to be imposed on non-resident fishermen in Michigan. A rumor of such a law having been passed in Michigan is stamped as absolutely without foundation. The origin of this false report is traced to current last winter when a question was raised in legislative proceedings concerning the subject, but no action taken, legislators not deeming such a measure advisable. Nothing further has been done, and tourists from Indiana are assured that they need not forego their customary outing to Michigan resorts this summer on the score of being confronted by a tax collector, for there are none such to bar the way.

Judging from the many inquiries already received by W. W. Richardson, Assistant General Passenger Agent of the Pennsylvania Lines, Indianapolis, regarding Michigan resorts and the famous fishing, there will be more than the usual number of Indiana tourists enjoy their summer outing in those health and pleasure havens where either hay fever nor fishing fees exist.

SURVEYORS

Stop Off at Ft. Ritner and Cause Excitement.

Fifteen surveyors for the mysterious railroad line that is being surveyed from Louisville northward stopped at Ft. Ritner Wednesday night. They tell nothing, and their destination is unknown. The people of Ft. Ritner are greatly excited over the probability of their town getting another railroad and becoming a railroad center.

Fort Ritner is not the only town to get excited because of these surveyors. Every village they pass through at once sees visions of a new railroad and takes a boom. Other towns nearby have been working for several years. Brownstown wants it and makes suggestions that prove loyalty.

It is wonderful how much talk a corps of surveyors can start and how many imaginary booms they start.

Shale Land.

Andrew F. Robertson recently sold thirty acres of shale land near Shields to the United States Cement Co., of Bedford, for which he received $200 per acre. For this he received $150 per acre with timber and road privileges reserved. From present indications there will be from 75 to 100 hands employed in these shale lands within the next year.—Brownstown Banner.

Quality vs. Quantity.

Hard muscles and strong body do not depend on the quantity of food you eat, but on its perfect digestion and proper assimilation. When you take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure your system gets all the nourishment out of all the food you eat. It digests what you eat regardless of the conditions of the stomach and conveys the nutrient properties to the blood and tissues. This builds up and strengthens the entire system. No Benefit No Cost.

If you are weak and worn-out—if you are nervous, irritable, have headache, backache, neuralgia, or periodical pains, it is because you have exhausted your nerve force.

If you cannot sleep, and are thus robbed of the rest which nature demands for the restoration of mental and physical vigor, your system will continue to run down.

Dr. Miles' Nervine restores vitality by soothing and strengthening the nervous system, thus inducing refreshing sleep, and imparting strength and vigor to all the organs of the body.

There are very few instances where Nervine will not benefit; if not, your druggist will refund your money.

"When I began taking Dr. Miles' Nervine I had a very sour stomach, with pain extending far around on my left side—attended with extreme nervousness. I dreaded to have night come, as it was impossible for me to sleep. Everything I ate distressed me. Before I had finished one bottle of Nervine there was such a change that my husband bought six more, which has restored me to health."
MRS. JENNIE SIMMS, Rushville, Ind.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

A CASE OF IT.

Many More Like It in Seymour.

The following case is but one of many similar occurring daily in Seymour. It is an easy matter to verify its correctness. Surely you cannot ask for better proof than such a conclusive evidence.

Mrs. Jesse Buckles of Indianapolis Avenue, says:—"In the spring of 1899 I suffered severely from backache and procured Doan's Kidney Pills at C. W. Milhous' drug store. I had dull aching and acute lameness in my loins which inconvenienced me when rising from a chair or attempting to lift anything. The kidney secretions were embarrassing and I was afflicted with nervousness and attacks of dizziness. Doan's Kidney Pills promptly relieved me. They were quick to invigorate my kidneys and strengthen my back. After taking the treatment my general health was better than for a long time."

The Good Old Way.

A severe cold or attack of the gripe is like a fire, the sooner you comb it the better your chances are to overpower it. But few mothers in this age are willing to do the necessary work required to give a good old fashioned reliable treatment such as would be administered by their grandmothers, backed by Boschee's German Syrup, which was always liberally used in connection with the home treatment of colds and is still in greater household favor than any known remedy. But even without the application of the old fashioned aids German Syrup will cure a severe cold in quick time. It will cure colds in children or grown people. It relieves the congested organs, allays the irritation and effectively stops the coughs. Any child will take it. It is invaluable in a household of children. Trial size bottle, 25c; regular size 75c. For sale by W. F. Peter Drug Co.

BURNED TO DEATH

Engine Crew of Pennsylvania Train Meet Horrible Fate.

Dayton, O., June 2.—Engineer Edward Ginery and Fireman Charles Price, both of Columbus, engine crew on a Pennsylvania passenger train, were burned to death at the crossing above Stillwater Junction. The train struck an oil wagon driven by Horace D. Babbitt of this city. The oil tank burst from the force of the collision, the engine fires ignited the oil and a terrific explosion occurred. The engineer and fireman leaped from the cab at the same time, but were swallowed up in the fiery furnace of oil. Both were burned to death. Babbitt escaped with a few slight burns and his horses were not injured. The engine cab was charred and ruined and the entire train looked like it had gone through a prairie fire.

AN UGLY CHARGE

President of Teamsters' Union Says He Was Offered a Bribe.

Chicago, June 2.—Charges of bribery against an official of the Employers' Teaming company were made to the grand jury by President Shea of the teamsters' union and by Albert Young, former president of the same organization. Young and Shea claim that they were offered $10,000 two years ago to bring about a strike of the teamsters employed by Sears, Roebuck & Co., which is a rival concern of Montgomery Ward & Co. They said that they refused the money and the strike was never called.

Shea was the first witness and his testimony covered the offering of the bribe and his statement that he would not call the strike for $100,000. Albert Young was then called and gave similar testimony.

SEEING AMERICA.

Wonderful Scenic Trip Across Rocky Mountains to Oregon Exposition.

In certain respects the excursions to the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition, Portland, Oregon, via Pennsylvania Lines, beginning May 23rd and continuing through the summer, offer advantages never before presented to Exposition visitors. The trip to the Oregon Exposition, in addition to the attractiveness of the extensive exhibits, includes the journey through the scenic wonderland of the Rocky Mountains and the Cascade Range, and what American has not looked forward from the days of the geography class in school to the time when those great sights should be seen in reality? The time was never so favorable as now. The trip may be made less expensive than ever. For only a slight difference in fare tourists may extend their trip to San Francisco and Los Angeles. The return trip may be made over a different route, enabling travelers to view much more of the west. For full particulars, fares, dates of special excursions to Portland on account of conventions, through time and passenger service apply to ticket agent of Pennsylvania Lines.
